

CAFRAL Virtual Conference on LIBOR Transition and Benchmark Reforms

Background:

LIBOR transition is no more a future event. With regulatory prescriptions in place, with a roadmap, it is already a work in progress for banks, financial institutions and corporates. Banks and other financial institutions following the regulatory roadmap and implementing their transition strategies are grappling with the complexities, challenges and technical glitches involved and there is a lot to be gained from the sharing of experiences. This one day long CAFRAL Virtual Conference seeks to provide all stakeholders a platform to deliberate on the technical details and implementation challenges. Also, it will attempt to assess the state of preparedness amongst the financial sector stakeholders as far as the transition is concerned, while deliberating on the progress in benchmark reform.
